NUSA's Declaration of Neighborhood Roles, Rights and Responsibilities

We come together working to preserve and improve our neighborhoods.

We have the right to self-determination and empowerment; to be advised and consulted on policies and public-private initiatives affecting our neighborhoods; to have our neighborhood values, culture and history recognized and respected; and to have the authority and resources to establish neighborhood organizations.

We have the responsibility to advise governments and others of neighborhood values, culture and history; to listen to the views of ALL residents; to help one another care for children, the aging and others in need; to promote self-sufficiency of residents and economic and social development of the neighborhood; to guide our youth; to look out for the safety of our homes and streets, maintain our properties, and make proper use of public facilities; and to strive diligently to achieve liberty and justice for all.

We look to governments, voluntary organizations, businesses and philanthropy to meet neighborhood needs for personal, social & economic development; to fund neighborhood organizations and services; to respect neighborhood values, culture and history; and to be held accountable for how their actions affect our neighborhoods.

We ask that the actions of neighborhood residents and organizations, governments, businesses and philanthropy be guided by the principle of equity, participation and accountability.
